Marcia Barrett's biography

Born in Jamaica and raised and educated in England, Marcia Barrett first found fame as a solo performer in Germany in the early 70's. In 1969 Marcia took up an offer to dance in a discotheque near Hamburg. One evening she spontaneously reached for the microphone and sang Oh Happy Day, never realising that it would be the start of a phenomenal world wide career. For the next five years she toured around Germany performing her repertoire which included Belfast (a song that was specially written for her and later a Boney M. hit).

In 1976 she joined the now legendary Boney M. She spent fifteen years as a vital vocalist and performer for the group, contributing her powerful and distinctive voice to many of their biggest hits including We Kill The World, Belfast and Rivers Of Babylon/Brown Girl In The Ring (that stayed at the top of the UK charts for five weeks) amongst many others as well as the seasonal chart topper Mary's Boy Child/Oh My Lord. Their albums Take The Heat Off Me, Love For Sale, Oceans Of Fantasy, The Magic Of Boney M., Boonoonoonoos, 10'000 Light Years, Eye Dance and Christmas with Boney M. also hit the top of the charts. Nightflight To Venus became the groups best selling album and one of the best selling albums in Europe ever.

Marcia has accomplished many things in her professional career. With Boney M. she sold in excess of 150 million records and collected more than 800 golden, platinum, and silver discs as well as numerous awards. She has twice appeared in the Guiness book of records, pertaining to record sales. Marcia also had the distinct honour of performing for Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Boney M. also became the very first pop group from the West to perform in the then Soviet Union. At the end of their career Boney M. had fifteen Nr 1 chart hits and countless other hits around the world.

In 1999 the new BONEY M. 2000 remix CD, yeilded no fewer than three hit singles, Ma Baker (Somebody Scream), Caribbean Night Fever and Daddy Cool 99. At the edge of the new century Marcia Barrett is also returned. After having fought cancer twice in the last ten years, she was ready to rock. Fans around the world were already celebrating her long anticipated solo recording, aptly entitled SURVIVAL, sold over the internet. Marcia's message on Survival is one of hope for the future and reaches out to all. But fate struck again when Marcia was diagnosed with another two bouts of cancer. But the true fighter Marcia is she has won over the illness and was eager to return to her passion. Hey Joe was the first result of that neverending love for music.

Marcia Barrett's CD

come into my life

After battling cancer twice Marcia Barrett finally released her first solo album the highly acclaimed but limited release Survival in 1999. A follow up EP in protest to the war in Iraq No War! Peace & Love was released in 2002. However, unfortunately another crippling attack of cancer of the spine in 2003 put all recordings on hold. Ever the trouper, Marcia conquered the latest in a long line of misfortunes and teamed up with producer Mario Müller-Sixer to produce her second solo outing Come Into My Life. This time though Marcia's talents as a songwriter are brought to the fore as she has written or co-written most of the tracks on the album. The first single released in Europe is a cover of Jimi Hendrix' s Hey Joe; songs that Marcia first performed to great acclaim during Boney M's live shows. In fact the whole album takes a much more rock approach in contrast to much of her previous work. Come Into My life is rich in atmosphere and represents a kaleidoscope of music. Some of the highlights are Albatross an instrumental track written by Peter Green of Fleetwood Mac. Over the years numerous artists approached Green with requests to put lyrics to the instrumental track. He always refused, until he saw Marcia's beautiful inspiring atmospheric lyrics – high praise indeed. The Boney M hit Belfast is also given new fresh treatment. Powerful ballads, The Sun and You Belong To Me sit comfortably alongside powerful pop rock tracks like Rip It Up and Rock with Me. An album that shows Marcia Barrett's versatility as an artist, and an selection of inspiring music which will appeal to fans old and new.
